Numb. 264.

THE South-Carolina Gazette.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

THURSDAY February 22, 1739.

To the Author of the General Evening Poſt.

Hague, Dec. 13. N. S.

SIR,

PRIVATE Letters from all Quarters confirm what is to be ſeen in the publick News Papers, relating to the definitive Treaty of Vienna, ſigned between the Emperor and France, and into which the King of Spain and Sardinia are preſſingly ſolicited to enter. A Treaty of Subſidy is likewiſe ſigned between France and Sweden, unknown, as has been reported, to Mr. Finch the Britiſh Miniſter there, which is ſtrange enough! And to compleat our Danger, a like Treaty between the juſt mention'd formidable Power and Denmark is on the Tapis, and near a Concluſion. It is in Conſequence of thoſe Treaties, which bode very ſiniſter Things for Great-Britain and this Republick, that the French Troops on the Side of Luxembourg, and Juliers, have received Orders to be ready on a Day's Warning. And now that all Obſtacles are removed and her long concerted Projects are ripe for Execution; it is highly probable, that France will have the Gates of Luxembourg thrown open to a Body of her Troops, and the Imperial Garriſon forthwith evacuate that important Fortreſs. This great Event will be executed openly, but without the Formality of previouſly communicating it, or asking Leave of any Power of Europe. The Body of French Troops that will take Poſſeſſion of this Place and its Territory will be very numerous, not through Fear of being diſturbed in the ſaid Poſſeſſion, but in order to execute another favourite Project, which is, vi armorum to ſecure the eventual Succeſſion of Juliers and Berg to the Prince of Sultzbach, and perhaps actually to poſſeſs herſelf of thoſe Countries, in quality of Protector and Guardian, till that young Prince be out of his Minority. Happy for him, that his firſt State of Life is almoſt elapſed; he is now full Sixteen, and the Children of the Sultzbach Family are reputed Major at Seventeen. It may nevertheleſs be doubted, whether the Cardinal, who is a wiſe Man, will approve of that Family-Regulation, and whether he may not think, that the Countries, in Truſt, are of too great Importance to be rightly governed by a Stripling of Seventeen. It is true, the Children of France are Major almoſt in their very Cradles; but it would be Arrogance for Germans, or indeed any other Nation, to pretend to the like Maturity and Pregnancy of Parts, with the Blood Royal of France.

I am Sir,

Yours, &c.

BOURDEAUX, Nov. 30.

Yeſterday a Ship arrived here from the Leeward Iſlands, the Maſter of which reports, that at Guadalupe they have had the moſt dreadful Hurricane that ever was remembred in thoſe parts; that above twenty Ships were broke to Pieces upon the Coaſt; that almoſt all the Houſes in the Iſland were blown down; the Trees and the Sugar-Canes tore up by the Roots, and that the Loſs occaſioned by this Storm is much greater than what the Inhabitants of Martinico ſuffered in the late Fire there.

They write from Amſterdam, that the States General have received Information, that in all likelihood the Differences ſtill exiſting between the Courts of Great-Britain and Spain, will very ſpeedily be entirely determined; wherefore their High Mightineſſes begin to think it expedient to adjuſt without farther Delay, their Diſcuſſions with the Court of Madrid, for fear leſt Spain, ſeeing itſelf diſengaged from the Quarrels which have ſubſiſted between her and the Britiſh Nation, ſhould find herſelf in a Diſpoſition to employ all her

Strength

Strength againſt the Republick, to whom ſhe would unqueſtionably be glad to give Law. The laſt Advices from the Court of Spain has contributed to put their High Mightineſſes in this way of thinking, by which they have learned, that the Spaniſh Court is very much irritated againſt the Dutch, and will, probably if the States General do not uſe Means to prevent it, take Advantage of this Occaſion, in order to make itſelf amends, at the Expence of the Republick, for what it is likely to loſe by ſome Articles in the Convention of Accommodation with Great-Britain.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

We hear that the Prince Royal of Poland is arrived from Naples at Rome; that the Queen of Sardinia is delivered of a Prince; and that there has been a Fire at Seraglio, the Capital City of Boſnia, by which a great Number of Houſes, and ſeveral Moſques, have been reduced to Aſhes.

According to Letters from Madrid, there appears to be very little Foundation for the Report of a Treaty on Foot betwixt the Courts of Spain and Turin; the rather, becauſe his Sardinian Majeſty ſeems inclinable to accede to the Treaty between the Emperor and France; whereas his Catholick Majeſty chuſes rather, as 'tis ſaid, to treat with the Emperor by himſelf.

The French Mails brought the Paris A-la-main of the 29th Ult. and the 2d Inſt. O. S. By the former there's Advice dated the 15th ult. from Genoa; according to which the Affairs of Corſica don't take that Turn which the French Court expected; for the Rebels would not let the Drum-Major paſs, whom the Count de Boiſſieux ſent with a Proclamation (formerly mentioned) to the Podeſtas and Fathers of the Church, and took away a good Number of the Copies, telling him, that the French General ought not to have applied to them, but to the Chiefs, or their Deputies, as he did at firſt: Mean time 'tis ſaid, that ſeveral of the Podeſtas have returned an Anſwer to the ſaid Intimation in the moſt ſubmiſſive Terms; but the Iſlanders in general can't bear the Thoughts of giving up their Arms before they know what Terms they are to expect; they being ſtill apprehenſive, that they ſhall be abandon'd to the Diſcretion of the Republick of Genoa, which they are perſwaded aims at nothing leſs than their Deſtruction.
